

BRING ON THE APACHE RELAY!

DADS RULE AT NABBY!!!

Daddy Dodgeball, played on our covered basketball court, was a rousing success this past Tuesday at Nabby! Outfitted in bright orange "Daddy Dodgeball" T-shirts, our camp Dads had fun Diving, Ducking, Dipping and Dodging. The campers on the sidelines watching their Dads not only offered advice on how to play, but were also extremely quick to point out when a Dad was OUT!

Before the games started, the Dads prepared for the competition with various stretches - but at drop off the next morning, we did hear reports of sore arms and legs from some of our Dads. My guess is that they don't play dodgeball as much as their Nabby camper kids!!!

CAMPER IN THE NEWS!

Douglass camper Chloe Hazeltine just returned from the USAIGC World Championships in gymnastics held in Nashville. The competition was for ages 11 to 15, and having just turned 11, Chloe was one of the youngest gymnasts there. She qualified in three events and took 5th in both the floor exercise and the beam, and 2nd in the vault.

When asked about the people she met at the competition, Chloe said she loved the accent the girls from England had and also made new friends from South Africa!

Chloe will be a sixth grader at Blue Mountain Middle School next year and loves Camp Nabby!

And about that sweatshirt??? Well, it was a gift from her coach!

NABBY LIP SYNC CONTEST

The last qualifying round of Nabby's Counselor Lip Sync Contest was held this week and pitted Josef from Rock Wall against Krystabella from Swim.

Josef, in a blond "man bun" wig, lip synced to Ed Sheeran and Justin Bieber's "I Don't Care" and ran thru the audience in his bold choice of an outfit - a plaid shirt and striped tie.

Krystabella followed with "Crank That" by Soulja Boy. And, not only did she know all the words, but had some pretty incredible dance moves as well! No fish out of water, Krystabella from Swim went on to victory and will be the fourth counselor to reach the semi-finals that will start next week.

NABBY AQUATICS

Nabby campers are finding success in our pools this summer. We have new green and blue bands each week, but 4 blue bands were of special notice this week. Four 5 year old Smith campers received blue bands after swimming the entire length of our big pool (90 feet!), treading water for 60 seconds and retrieving a ring at the 6 foot depth. Swim instructor Deb was so proud of all four of them!

Also in the news was Dylan Fisher who set a new Nabby freestyle record for 9 year old boys. His time was 22.91 seconds!

Dylan Fisher swam like the shark on his swim shirt while setting a new Nabby pool record this week!

Smith girls Alana, Ayla, Reese and Sammy with their blue bands!

COLOR WAR!

The Great Chase Race was the latest Color War Epic Event to take place in senior camp.

The Race combined both physical and mental challenges for the campers as well as their ability to find hidden duckies, rubber chickens and Angry Birds!

Physical events included dodgeball, softball, basketball, break dancing and diving for rings. Mental events included riddles, puzzles and trivia quizzes that covered geography, sports and music. As this was the last Color War event before week 8's two day finale, both teams were hoping to gain points to add to their summer long total. There were 4 Red teams and 4 White teams competing and the runner up team was the Red #1 team led by Samantha from Barnard and Nick from Penn. The overall winning team, however, was the White #2 team led by Maureen from Jackson and Tyler from Columbia!

After all the rubber chickens and duckies were counted and all the 8 team scores were tabulated, the final result was the White team with 1,800 points to the Red teams 1,230 points. The running total now stands at:

WHITE TEAM - 6755

RED TEAM - 6760

Wow!!! Only 5 points separate the two teams! It's all up to the final two days of competition in week 8 to determine this year's Color War champion!

DARTMOUTH AND WILLIAMS RED VS WHITE "COMBINE"

The Dartmouth and Williams counselors created a week long competition for their boys to prepare them for senior camp next year. Modelled after the senior camp Red vs White Color War, the boys were divided into their own Red and White teams. The events held during the week included the speed ladder, a tug of war, the long jump, the high jump and the 40 yard dash. The record set for the 40 yard dash was a terrific 8.07 seconds! For the first three days, the White team was in the lead, but on the last day, the Red team rallied and staged a comeback to win by the close score of 950 to 940!

Kudos to Williams assistant counselor Richie, who was inspired by the NFL combine, for creating this inaugural event.

Head counselors Bryan and Nico said the boys had a great time and got a taste of what senior camp will be like next year. They're all looking forward to participating in the Color War Epic Events in 2020!

CUBS

The Cubs rule the pool with their swimming skills! We are all getting stronger each and every day.

SMITH

Our Smith girls have been working on their Simon Sez skills for the extra special Steve Max show on Friday!

CORNELL

Cornell is crazy for the water park and loves staying cool at the pool!

SKIDMORE

Our girls perfected their catching and throwing skills at mini-baseball with Coach Bill.

WELLS

The Wells Girls learned a new game this week called running bases. They had a lot of fun with it. They keep asking when they can play it again.

BRYN MAWR

We are perfecting our dance moves and singing for the junior camp musical and our performance of "Hard Knock Life" from Annie.

BARNARD

The Barnard girls paired up with the Penn boys to learn the ropes for our very first Great Chase Race!

RADCLIFFE

The Radcliffe girls showed their smarts at The Great Chase Race by mastering all the trivia questions.

DOUGLASS

Douglass dives into the 5th week of camp, having lots of fun, in the pool and in the sun!

JACKSON

Welcomed a special guest camper this week all the way from Brazil! The girls loved having an international friend at Nabby with them.

YALE

The Yale boys love zip lining and climbing the tree at aerial adventure.

PRINCETON

We are working hard at swim instruction and making great progress every day. We have tallied 77 holes-in-one in our annual golf contest...well on our way to a goal of 100 for the summer.

BROWN

Our Brown boys are gearing up for the Junior Camp musical with the hit song "Footloose". Wait till you see our dance moves!

DARTMOUTH

Our group enjoyed a Plane theme at Arts & Crafts this week, constructing wooden airplanes and racing planes colored with markers.

WILLIAMS

We teamed up with Dartmouth for an inaugural "Nabby Combine" testing our athletic skills in various skill events (see article in this edition)

COLUMBIA

Columbia comedians love cracking jokes and making their counselors laugh!

DUKE

The Duke boys are confident in their Simon Sez skills despite their counselors performance in previous years!

TULANE

The Tulane boys kept up the pace at the Great Chase race!

PENN

After four weeks of not wanting to play "Tchoukball" our boys tried this new game and now love it, having played it every day this week.
