TENNIS AT NABBY

Tennis at Nabby this summer has been at "full steam ahead" pace since week one! The level of enthusiasm is at an all time high with afternoon interest periods bulging at the seams.

With the growing numbers of players coming up from our successful 10 and under program, an all-star lineup of instructors has been assembled to accommodate the growth. Head instructor Dave Graham returns for his fifth year at Nabby, leaving California behind for the summer to make it happen. Dave's three assistants were all teammates at Hen-Hud High school and after playing tennis thru their senior year will now move on to the next level. Kennan Ewing, a Con Ed athlete of the of the week (and an amazing Hollyrock quiz show player) to Princeton, Spencer Mazzilli to Boston College and Jake Fox to the University of Rochester.

Dave says this is by far the greatest staff for tennis ever assembled at Nabby and that the guys are an absolute joy to work with. The true benefactors of course, are the campers, as their skill levels continue to improve with the added attention. It's exciting to see the kids getting to love tennis - a life time sport!

YALE

Christina Gallo is in her first year as head counselor for Yale and has been a special education teacher for the past 24 years for ages 5-21. She has two boys who currently are attending Camp Nabby for the first time and are loving it! Jake is 9 and in Columbia and Nicholas is 7 in Dartmouth. Her assistants are Adian Witt, who has been coming to Camp Nabby for over 10 years and is a senior at Horace Greely High school; Anthony Foto, who has been a camper for 10 years at Nabby and starting his junior year at Kennedy High school; and Alex Klein, who's in his first summer here and loving it! He is going into his sophomore year at TUFTS University, studying mechanical engineering.

Yale is having a great time trying out all the activities that Nabby has to offer. The boys are loving the pillow jumper, Aerial Adventure, and Ranger Rick! They also love play to play dodgeball against the counselors and enjoy free swim in the pool. They are making new friends and learning new games. Yale is having a great beginning and will have a spectacular summer at Camp Nabby!

WIZZY WACKY WELLS

The Wizzy Wacky Wells girls have been having a great summer so far! With head counselor Eliza Ginsberg and assistants Amanda Sklar and Christina Rizzotto, there's always loud singing and lots of dancing! It is Eliza's 12th summer at camp Nabby as both a camper and now head counselor! She just graduated from Indiana University and is going to NYU in the fall to get her Masters Degree in social work. Amanda is in her second year at Nabby and goes to the University of Maryland and Christina is a senior at Lakeland high school and is spending her 6th summer at Nabby! The Wells girls have really enjoyed learning new games like spud and newcomb and you can often find us zipping down the zip line and showing off our gymnastics moves! We are so excited for the rest of the summer!

THE RADCLIFFE ROCKETTES!

The Radcliffe girls are having a blast at Camp Nabby! Led by head counselor Marisa Bertone and assisted by Olivia Weale, the Radcliffe bunk is one to look out for. Marisa is an elementary school teacher at Seely Place Elementary School in Edgemont and has attended Nabby since she was 8 years old! A whopping 19 years! She never wants to leave! (And we never want her to leave either!)

Olivia is going to be a sophomore at the University of Vermont. She is studying Business Administration. It is her first summer at Nabby but wishes she was once a camper here!

The Radcliffe girls can't believe week 3 is already over! Time flies when you're having fun! The Radcliffe Rockettes shined on stage during their Spirit Week cheer with a beautiful kick line routine. Radcliffe has enjoyed some intense games of Gaga and basketball. They're always striving to be number one! They are perfecting their Tennis Racquet Baseball skills, but have to watch out for Marisa's fastball! The Radcliffe Rockettes love playing Queen of the Court at tennis. With Olivia's skills plus the lessons from the instructors, the girls are ready for the pros! The Radcliffe girls are looking forward to Predator and Prey next week and hope the hawk doesn't catch them!!

WACKY SNACKY WEDNESDAY!

If your camper says they ate caterpillars for snack this week, they did!!! The kitchen crew served up some yummy grape crawly worms to every group last Wednesday. Their cute marshmallow faces had their smiles and eyes painted on with edible ink! I wonder what creature will be featured next week for Wacky Snacky Wednesday???

THE DAPPER DUDES OF DUKE!

Led by head counselor Mitch Cohen and assistant counselor Andrew Goldblatt, the Dapper Dudes of Duke are the most exciting group at camp. This is Mitch's 4th year at Nabby. He's pursuing his Masters Degree in Physical Education at Manhattanville College and loves all sports, especially golf, in his free time. Andrew has been at Nabby for 12 years as both a camper and a counselor! He attends SUNY Cortland where his major is Sports Management and enjoys all sports whenever he has time off. This week at camp, Duke performed their skit for spirit week and really hit it out of the park! Along with spirit week, The boys participate in all different sports and activities throughout the camp. From tennis, to baseball, to basketball, to golf...there is no limit to what these kids are able to do. The improvement that is seen by the counselors each and every day in whichever sport or activity the campers choose is incredible! The most important key to improving at any sport is working and practicing the fundamentals, and that is what the counselors always emphasize. When it comes to camp though, there is nothing more the kids love than playing Gaga. Every time the word Gaga is said, their faces light up with smiles and excitement. Our goal at camp is to always have fun and improve skills, and the Dapper Dudes of Duke meet that goal each day. They are looking forward to the rest of camp!
