

THREE CHEERS FOR NABBY SPIRIT!!!

THE MAGIC OF ERIC

This week the Nabby stage presented "The Extreme Magic of Eric". Eric has wowed the Nabby campers for the past 10 years and this year was no exception. He included some of the counselors for some closeup magic that left them shaking their heads and asking "how'd he do that?". His comeback answer to that question was "very well!!". We agree!

Counselor Luke from Tulane was amazed that after he mixed up a Rubik's cube for 20 minutes, Eric was able to exactly duplicate the result by picking up a cube that had been sitting on a table for the duration of the show!

Counselor Brianna from gymnastics had absolutely NO idea that Eric levitated her over a foot above the table!

NATIONAL WATERMELON DAY

As if we needed an excuse to eat watermelon on a hot summer afternoon, last Monday was National Watermelon Day. For snack time that day, the Nabby campers enjoyed celebrating the juicy red fruit!

KUDOS CORNER

Avery in Douglass has quite an artist for a Dad! Each day her lunch is packed in a plain brown paper bag with a different drawing depicting her life at Nabby. These are only three of the many creative bags she has stored in her bunk! Great job Dad!!!

UNDER THE GYMNASTICS TENT

Though there may not be any Olympic Games this summer, there is plenty of tumbling, cartwheels and balance beam work happening every day at our very own Nabby gymnastics program. In her 7th year at Nabby and 3rd year as head of gymnastics, Paige Mangione leads our campers daily with much enthusiasm and love for the sport. Paige participated in gymnastics for 15 years and is now a special education teacher in Harrison.

Paige is assisted by Brianna Ocasio, a junior at Walter Panas High School who has been at Nabby since she was 3 years old (way to go Brianna!), and newcomer Kim McKenna, a junior at Lakeland High School.

A fun fact we discovered is that Paige was actually Brianna's instructor when she was first learning the sport. Now that love of gymnastics has come full circle with both of them working together at Nabby!

In the morning, the gymnastics staff guide our Junior Campers through stretching exercises, teach basic tumbling skills and work with the children to master an obstacle course featuring a balance beam, American Ninja Warrior Steps, and mats. In the afternoon, senior campers enjoy their gymnastic interest period with balance and stretching exercises and more advanced tumbling with some handsprings and walkovers in the mix!

No matter their age, all of our Nabby campers enjoy the many activities at gymnastics and can dream of becoming an Olympian one day!

THE GREAT CHASE RACE

This week all the senior camp groups competed against each other in the Great Chase Race at Nabby. There were 31 events that each earned valuable points and had to be completed in an hour's time. Only one group finished all 31 events - the Penn White team. That may have given them the edge, but the point totals depended on how well each event was executed. Some of the physical and mental challenges that were in the race included relay races, frisbee tosses, Tik Tok dancing, watermelon rind displays, baseball, hockey and basketball skills, geography knowledge and hula hoop prowess!

At stake was the coveted Great Race Trophy - and, this year, the proud winners are PENN WHITE!!!

First place winners...PENN WHITE!!!

Second place...Tulane

Third place...Jackson

BARNARD

We loved creating superhero projects in interest period in Arts and Crafts this week!

COLUMBIA

The boys are gearing up for next year's Wimbledon as they're really improving their tennis skills.

DUKE(RED)

What a fantastic time we had at the infamous "Great Chase Race". We wish it was every week.

DUKE(WHITE)

Wow! is what we can say about "The Great Chase Race". We did a great deal of running and looking for things. "The Great Chase Race" rocks!

TULANE

Music was the hit this week. We listened to a rendition of songs by Jaden Smith. Rafael from music was our go to man. We were humming the songs all day.

PENN(WHITE)

We loved the pillow jumper because it is like a trampoline. When you get on the pillow jumper you have to try and keep your balance. Once you find your balance you can start jumping around. That was a lot of fun! Basketball is always a cool sport for us. We played some pretty competitive games.

PENN(RED)

It has been a terrific time at camp this week because we have been playing baseball against Penn(White) every day. The games have all been very competitive and we've scored a bunch of runs!

Brown Break Down really wowed us with their awesome moves!

The Radcliffe Roosters had a lot to crow about!

The Dunkin' Douglass Donuts were delicious!

The Bryn Mawr Billionaires were money in the bank!

The Jackson Clouds told us Nabby always is happy!

Walt Disney Wells was a fairy tale that came to life on stage!

The Stanford Swole muscled their way to stardom!

The Princeton Planets were out of this world!

The Bates Sick Beats were music to our ears!

The Colgate Cool Kids were oh so groovy!

The Dartmouth Doctors made a house call to the Nabby stage!

Curious Cornell didn't monkey around on stage!

The Vassar Virus Fighters showed bubbly energy on stage!

Smith campers brought the sunshine out today!

The Harvard Hotdogs really cooked on the stage with their dance moves!

The Cutie Cubs were cuddly!

The Yale Snails came out of their shells on stage!

Skidmore in Space rocked the place!
